

23rd EAC HERITAGE MANAGEMENT SYMPOSIUM

Archaeology and the Natural Environment

March 24–25, 2022

Natural History Museum

Maria-Theresien-Platz, 1010 Wien

Day 1 – March 24, 2022

- 12:00 Welcome and Opening of the symposium
Welcoming address – Christoph Bazil, President Federal Monuments Authority Austria
Opening of the symposium – Barney Sloane, President of EAC
Launching of EAC Paper 17: Climate Change and Archaeology

Keynote

- 12:30 Museums as mediators between the past and the future
Katrin Vohland, General Director Natural History Museum
Vienna

Session 1 – Archaeology as habitat – monuments and sites as habitats

Session chair and moderation: Karina Grömer, Natural History Museum
Vienna

- 13:00 The Archaeological Landscape Park of Aguntum, an Alpine Roman Town in East Tyrol. Synergy between cultural heritage, landscape protection and biodiversity
Andreas Nemmert, Austria
- 13:30 Butrint National Park Management – Combining Natural
Park with Cultural Heritage
Mariglen Meshini, Ela Miziri, Rudina Zoto, Albania
- 14:00 The wreck Mazarrón II (Murcia, Spain). Management of human and natural threats
Elena Vázquez, Spain

- 14:30 Break
- 15:00 Sweden's first restoration of a burial ground – Hemlanden on Björkö
Mattias Schönbeck, Sweden
- 15:30 Sunken landscapes and settlement areas. On the reconquest of archaeological sites under water
Cyril Dworsky, Austria
- 16:00 Archaeology and the natural environment in the Czech Republic. Recognition, documentation and protection in a time of climate change
Jan Mařík, Martin Tomášek, Czech Republic
- 16:30 Discussion and closure of Day 1
Barney Sloane

Day 2 – March 25, 2022

Session 2 – Archaeology and biodiversity – understanding species introductions, distributions and extinctions over time

Session chair and moderation: Mathias Harzhauser, Natural History Museum Vienna

- 9:00 Faunal remains from archaeological sites in Brussels reflect anthropogenic changes during the last two millennia: messages to the general public and stakeholders
Bea de Cupere, Wim van Neer, Belgium
- 9:30 What's down the hole? Archaeobotanical Evidence on Plant Subsistence and Vegetation during the Hellenistic Period at the Archaeological Site Near Voditsa Village, Northeastern Bulgaria
Hanna Hristova, Kalina Petkova, Bulgaria
- 10:00 Cultural landscapes change from Late Neolithic to Late Middle Ages in Northern Westphalia
Leo Klinke, Germany
- 10:30 Break

Session 3 – Archaeological heritage and natural heritage management – conflict or collaboration in protecting nature and archaeology?

Session chair and moderation: Andreas Picker, Federal Monuments Authority
Austria

- 11:00 Remote sensing data to support integrated decision making in cultural and natural heritage management – impasses and opportunities for collaboration in agricultural areas
Rachel Opitz, Scotland
- 11:30 Experience between nature conservation and archaeology of the old water system in Southern Hesse/ Germany
Thomas Becker, Germany
- 12:00 Lunch Break
- 13:30 Archaeological Heritage Management and the Natural Environment. The Experience from Iceland
Thor Ingólfsson Hjaltalín, Kristín Huld Sigurðardóttir, Iceland
- 14:00 Natural management and protection of archaeological sites in Estonia
Anu Lillak, Estonia
- 14:30 Reconciling the protection of nature and monuments – Large-scale nature conservation project between Siebengebirge and Sieg
Christine Wohlfarth, Germany
- 15:00 Break

- 15:30 Unified preservation of archaeological and natural values.
The experience of Latvia
Sandra Zirne, Egita Lūsēna, Latvia
- 16:00 Where the twain shall meet: International rules for the protection of heritage and nature
Leonard de Wit, The Netherlands
- 16:30 Discussion and closure of Day 2 and the symposium
Barney Sloane

Please register online:

<https://www.europae-archaeologiae-consilium.org/eac-symposium-2022>

Participation is only possible with registration and in compliance with the currently valid COVID19 specifications in Austria.

By participating, you also agree that photos and videos taken during the event may be used for public relations by the Federal Monuments Authority and its partners. The event will also be streamed.

